STEVE SHAPRO is the Deputy for Small Business at the Naval Facilities Engineering Command Northwest. NAVFACNW is responsible for all Navy construction and facilities support throughout the Pacific Northwest. Steve manages NAVFACNW small business programs that provide opportunities for small businesses, small disadvantaged businesses, HUBZone small businesses, veteran and service disabled veteran owned small businesses, and women owned small businesses to participate in Federal contracting as both prime and subcontractors. Prior to assuming his current job, Steve was a Navy Supply Corps Captain who served on surface ships and submarines. He also held key supply chain, policy and contracting positions at Navy commands around the world including Commanding Officer of the Fleet and Industrial Supply Center Puget Sound and Deputy Commander for Contracting Management at the Naval Supply Systems Command.

The reason companies are forming Joint Ventures is to pursue Federal Work.

Steve will address the issues seen with Joint Ventures and while his current experience will be construction focused, there will be some general applicability.
